Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nakajima et al (US 6,275,759 B1).

The reference of Nakajima et al discloses an automatic engine stop and restart system for vehicle including the motor/generator (2) can function as an electric motor or a starter motor and as an electric generator, a power control unit (12) controls the operating mode (start or stop mode), the speed (rpm) and the power generation quantity of the motor (2), and a stop and start controller (10) connected to the power control unit (12) to perform the automatic engine stop and start control [col. 3, lines 7-45]. Also note in specification, which describes transmitting the condition datum between the motor function and vehicle function.
